

Privacy Policy

Last updated: June 2026

This Privacy Policy explains what personal information we process when you use this Forum, why we process it, the legal bases we rely on, who we share it with, how long we keep it, and the rights you have. The Forum is operated by its creators and staff ("we", "us", or "our") as an experience on the Roblox platform.

Because the Forum runs on Roblox, your information is also handled by Roblox under the Roblox Privacy and Cookie Policy, available at <https://www.roblox.com/info/privacy>. This Privacy Policy covers only the information that we process as the operators of this Forum. It forms part of our Terms of Service.

1. Who is responsible for your information

1.1 For the limited information described in this policy, the operators of the Forum are the controller. You can reach us through the Forum's in-game support system.

1.2 Roblox is a separate controller for the platform information it holds about you, such as the identity behind your Roblox account, your email, your IP address, and any payment information. Roblox does not make that information available to us, and we are not responsible for how Roblox processes it.

2. The information we process

2.1 Information from your Roblox account. When you use the Forum, we receive the limited account information that Roblox makes available to experiences, which includes your Roblox user ID, your username, your display name, and your avatar image where it is shown. We may also receive limited signals that Roblox exposes, such as whether your account meets an age or eligibility threshold.

2.2 Information you provide by using the Forum. This includes the content you create or submit (your topics, replies, messages, and reactions), the reports you submit, and any profile fields or settings you choose within the Forum.

2.3 Information generated by your use of the Forum. This includes your activity and interactions, the topics and areas of the Forum you take part in, the accounts you follow and who follows you, the notifications you receive, your roles and permissions (which are based on your membership and rank in the Forum's Roblox group), your moderation history (such as warnings, mutes, or bans), any reports or appeals you submit, any support requests you open and the messages in them, identifiers we assign within the Forum, and technical and event information (such as logs and timestamps) that we need to make features work and to keep the Forum secure. Some of these fields, such as posts, reports, appeals, and support requests, are free text, so please do not include sensitive personal information in them.

3. Information we do NOT receive

We do not ask for or receive your real name, email address, password, phone number, postal address, payment details, precise location, or IP address. Roblox does not make this information available to experiences like ours, and we do not want it. If you make a purchase, it is processed by Roblox, so we do not receive your card or payment details. Please never post this kind of information about yourself or anyone else on the Forum. See the Community Rules and the Safety and Reporting policy.

4. How and why we use your information

We use the information described above to:

- Operate, provide, and maintain the Forum and its features;
- Display your content, username, and display name to other users, which is how a forum works;
- Show you parts of your own experience, such as your roles, your history, and your settings;
- Keep the Forum and its users safe and secure, including moderating content, enforcing the Community Rules and the Terms of Service, detecting and preventing abuse, spam, and ban evasion, and investigating reports;
- Understand how the Forum is used so that we can improve it; and
- Comply with our legal obligations and with the Roblox Terms.

5. Legal bases (for users in the EEA, the United Kingdom, and Switzerland)

If you are in the EEA, the United Kingdom, or Switzerland, we rely on the following legal bases under the GDPR and equivalent laws:

- Performance of a contract: to provide the Forum to you under the Terms of Service;
- Our legitimate interests: to operate, secure, moderate, and improve the Forum and to keep users safe, balanced against your rights and freedoms;
- Compliance with a legal obligation: where the law requires us to process or disclose information; and
- Consent: where we ask for it. You can withdraw consent at any time, without affecting processing that already took place.

6. When and with whom we share information

6.1 Other users. Your posts, your username, and your display name are visible to other users. The Forum is a public community space.

6.2 Roblox. As our platform provider and host, Roblox processes Forum data on its infrastructure and under its own policies.

6.3 Service providers. Any providers that are strictly necessary to operate the Forum may process information on our behalf. These are Amazon Web Services, which hosts the storage and computing, and Cloudflare, which provides the gateway. They are described in the External Storage Policy.

6.4 Legal and safety. We may disclose information where we are required to by law, to comply with the Roblox Terms or a lawful request, or where it is necessary to protect the rights, safety, and security of users, the public, the Forum, or Roblox. The Information and Legal Requests policy explains how we handle such requests.

6.5 We do not sell your personal information, and we do not share it for cross-context behavioural advertising. The Forum does not run third-party advertising networks.

7. The public nature of your content

Remember that what you post on the Forum is public to other users. Even after you delete content, copies that other users have quoted or re-posted may remain, and copies may persist for a time in backups or in moderation records. Please think before you post.

8. Where your information is stored, and international transfers

Some of your Forum data is stored using Roblox's data storage systems on Roblox's infrastructure, and some of it is stored in external datacenters that we or our service providers operate outside the Roblox platform. The External Storage Policy explains what is stored externally and why. Our external systems run on Amazon Web Services in the European Union, reached through a Cloudflare gateway. Amazon Web Services and Cloudflare are global organisations, so a limited amount of processing may take place outside the EEA; where personal data is transferred outside the EEA, we rely on appropriate safeguards as required by applicable law. Roblox is responsible for the platform-level storage of data held in its systems.

9. How long we keep your information

We keep Forum data for as long as it is needed to run the Forum and to provide your account. Content remains until it is deleted by you or by moderation. Records relating to safety and moderation, such as bans or logs of serious rule breaches, may be kept for longer where this is necessary to keep the Forum safe, to prevent ban evasion, to resolve disputes, or to comply with the law.

10. Your rights

10.1 Depending on where you live, you may have the right to access your personal data, to correct it, to delete it, to restrict or object to certain processing, to data portability, and to withdraw consent. Users in the EEA, the United Kingdom, and Switzerland have these rights under the GDPR and equivalent laws.

10.2 You will not be treated differently or refused service for exercising your rights.

10.3 To exercise a right, contact us through the Forum's in-game support system. Because we identify you by your Roblox account, we will verify your request against that account. We aim to respond within the period required by applicable law, which under the GDPR is normally one month.

10.4 If you are in the EEA, the United Kingdom, or Switzerland, you also have the right to lodge a complaint with your local data protection authority.

11. Right to erasure (the "right to be forgotten")

11.1 You can ask for your Forum data to be deleted. There are two routes:

- Through Roblox: Roblox provides a Right to Erasure process for its platform. When Roblox forwards us a valid erasure request for your account, we delete the Forum data that is associated with your Roblox user ID.
- Directly to us: you can also request deletion through the Forum's in-game support system.

11.2 When your data is erased, your follows, notifications, appeals, and support requests are deleted, and your topics and replies are anonymised, which means your Roblox user ID and username are removed from them and replaced with a non-identifying label, so the text may remain but is no longer linked to you. Reports and moderation records that reference you are anonymised in the same way. We may keep a one-way hashed identifier in order to enforce a permanent removal where one applies. Your interest profile and personal lists held in Roblox's data storage are erased through Roblox's own deletion process. The External Storage Policy explains this in more detail.

12. Children

The Forum is intended for users who are 13 or older. We do not knowingly process the data of anyone under 13 on the Forum. If we learn that a user is under 13, we will take appropriate action, which may include removing the account and its associated data and notifying Roblox. Roblox provides parental controls and additional protections for younger users on the platform.

13. Security

We rely on Roblox's platform security to protect stored data, and we limit access to Forum data to what our staff need in order to operate and moderate the Forum. No method of storage or transmission can be guaranteed to be completely secure. If a data breach affecting the Forum occurs, we will act in line with applicable law and Roblox's processes.

14. EU users and reporting illegal content

If you are in the European Union and you believe that content on the Forum is illegal under EU law or the law of an EU member state, you can report it to us through the Forum's in-game support system, with enough detail and any supporting material for us to assess it. We will review your report and may restrict access to or remove content that we determine is illegal in the relevant country. You can also report content to Roblox using its platform-wide reporting tools. The Information and Legal Requests policy contains further detail for authorities.

15. Changes to this policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. If we make changes, we will post the updated policy and change the "Last updated" date at the top. By continuing to use the Forum after the changes take effect, you accept the updated policy.

16. Contact

For any privacy question or request, contact us through the Forum's in-game support system.
